

David Hyatt, PA-C, joins Advanced Medical Imaging Consultants from his hometown in Mesa, AZ. David attended Arizona State University in Phoenix, obtaining his Bachelor of Science degree in Biological Sciences. After David received his undergraduate degree, he worked as a child life assistant in Mesa, AZ, providing children and their families emotional and physical support. David completed his training with a Master of Science degree in Physician Assistant Studies from Northern Arizona University in Phoenix, AZ.

David's medical career has been focused on Interventional Radiology for the past 6 years, but his passions lie with his patients, utilizing various imaging modalities and minimally invasive procedures to help improve their quality of life. David, his wife Elyse, and their 4 children, enjoy riding bikes, hiking, camping, and are looking forward to exploring the great Colorado outdoors.
