

Prior to receiving his medical degree at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, TX, Dr. Jaime Contreras received his undergraduate degree in biology from the University of Texas in El Paso, TX. He continued his medical career in Chicago, IL, completing his residency training in diagnostic radiology at the University of Chicago, then concluding his formal education with fellowships in neuroradiology from Barrow Neurological Institute in Phoenix, AZ, and neurointerventional radiology from Stanford University Medical Center in Palo Alto, CA.

Dr. Contreras is a returning radiologist to AMIC, having worked with the business for over a decade. While his professional interests lie with neuroradiology, Dr. Contreras and his wife Lorena, keep busy tent camping, hiking, mountain biking, and spending time with their three children.
